'Adopted' highways still trashy
- cleanups to be 4 times a year

Peter Schwartz, a business and marketing consultant, said he "just fell in love with this place" 10 years ago while attending a conference and moved here from New York a few months ago. Then his father in law came to visit. "I was embarrassed by all the trash everywhere," he said. Schwartz's wife, Courtney Plotnick, says she's so fed up with the rubbish along Catalina Highway near their home that she's become a one-person cleanup crew.
